Introduction

Russells Hall Primary School is proudly recognised as an Inclusive Attendance school. Our unwavering commitment to attendance centres around child-centric actions, evidence-informed practices, and a shared understanding of everyone's roles and collective responsibilities to promote exceptional attendance.

Inclusive Attendance Professional Development Model

The Inclusive Attendance professional development model fundamentally guides our attendance approach. Comprising six tailored Learning Modules, this model empowers us to deepen our understanding by facilitating continuous professional learning for all staff. Within this model, the four domains of practice ensure the provision of professional learning, professional development, evidence-based practices, and exemplary leadership and management to seamlessly integrate theory into practice.

Annual Inclusive Attendance 7-Month Development Programme

Each year, RUSSELLS HALL PRIMARY SCHOOL review and further enhances attendance practices through dedicated participation in the Inclusive Attendance 7-month development programme. This investment allows us to remain at the forefront of educational change and extends unparalleled support to our children and their families, equipping them with access to the finest possible assistance.

A Multi-Tiered System of Support

To guarantee a comprehensive approach to attendance, RUSSELLS HALL PRIMARY SCHOOL implement a Multi-Tiered System of Support. A Multi-Tiered System of Support (MTSS) for school attendance involves three tiers of intervention, with roles for teachers, the school, children, parents, and external agencies – including the Local Authority. Data-driven decision-making and training requirements are pivotal to the implementation of this system. The system aligns with the Department for Education's (DfE) "Working Together to Improve School Attendance" statutory paper 2024.

Tier 1 - Universal Approach: Establishing a baseline universal attendance approach that benefits all children.

Tier 2 – Internal individualised Strategies and Early Help Support: Tailoring strategies to individual needs and providing early help support for persistent attendance challenges.

Tier 3 - Higher Needs Strategies Support: Furnishing specialised support for children, young people, and families with complex attendance requirements, including access to external agency support when necessary.

RUSSELLS HALL PRIMARY SCHOOL Recognition-Based Approach

Our attendance philosophy is rooted in a recognition-based approach that recognises both personal and collective achievements. This approach serves to thwart isolation, prevent victimisation, cultivate positive environments, nurture relationships, foster inclusivity, and ultimately cultivate intrinsic motivation among our children, families, and staff.

Personal recognition: Every half term, children will get the chance to be awarded either their Bronze, Silver, Gold or Platinum Attendance badge, awarded in our Celebration Assembly. This might be for improved attendance, consistent attendance, sustaining good attendance over longer periods of time or exceptional attendance. Our badges provide tangible recognition that children can be proud of, improving their self-esteem and engagement with school. There is no limit to the number of badges the children can collect. Children who achieve 100% attendance will also receive 100 house points at the end of every half term. We will recognise those children who do not miss a day of school over the entire year as our Attendance Ambassadors and their photos will be proudly displayed in our hall of fame.

Collective achievements: Every week, class attendance is calculated. Classes who have achieved the highest attendance move along on our Classopoly Board. 94% moves 1 space, 96% 2 spaces and 98% moves 3 spaces and 100% 4 spaces. Attendance is celebrated every week in our values assembly. This gives each class an opportunity to land on rewards, such as hot chocolate, and film afternoons. The Classopoly Board can be found outside Miss Harrison's Office. We notify parents of our whole school attendance percentage on our website.

The class with the highest % each week, earns 20 housepoints each.

Each term, we run a class challenge where classes mark the days where they have had 100% attendance. Any class who achieves 15 days earns themselves 50 housepoints each.

The Importance of School Attendance at RUSSELLS HALL PRIMARY SCHOOL

School attendance is not merely a requirement but a fundamental pillar of education. It plays a pivotal role in shaping academic success, personal growth, and future prospects, making it an indispensable aspect of any educational system. Regular attendance to school can have a significant impact on:

- Academic Achievement: Regular attendance directly correlates with academic success. Children who attend school consistently are more likely to keep up with the curriculum, perform better in exams, and improve their life outcomes.
- Knowledge Acquisition: School is where children acquire knowledge and skills that are crucial for their personal and professional growth. Missing days means missing out on valuable learning opportunities.
- Social Development: School provides a vital social environment for children and adolescents to interact with peers, develop friendships, and learn essential social skills. Consistent attendance ensures children remain connected to their peer group.
- Building Routine: School attendance establishes a structured routine in children's lives, teaching them time management and responsibility, which are valuable life skills.
- Teacher Interaction: Regular attendance allows for meaningful teacher-child interactions. Teachers can provide personalised support, address questions, and assess individual progress more effectively when children attend regularly.
- Preventing Knowledge Gaps: Frequent absences can lead to significant knowledge gaps, making it challenging for children to catch up with missed lessons, potentially resulting in long-term academic struggles.
- School Engagement: Children who attend school regularly are more likely to engage in extracurricular activities, sports, and other enriching experiences that contribute to their overall development.
- Legal and Parental Responsibility: Parents or guardians are legally responsible for ensuring their child's regular school attendance. Failing to do so can lead to legal consequences.
- Community Well-being: High levels of school attendance contribute to the overall well-being of communities.

Factors Influencing Attendance

There are many factors which can impact on a child attending school, if you have any concerns you should contact the school as soon as possible:

Health Issues: Children may experience physical or mental health issues that lead to absences. Chronic illnesses, infections, and mental health conditions can impact a student's ability to attend school regularly.

Family Circumstances: Family-related factors such as bereavement, family illness, or caring responsibilities can result in absences from school. In some cases, students may need to take time off to support their families.

Bullying and Safety Concerns: Experiences of bullying, harassment, or safety concerns at school can deter students from attending. They may fear for their safety or well-being, leading to increased absenteeism.

Transportation Issues: Difficulty in accessing transportation to school, especially in rural areas, can affect attendance. Lack of reliable transportation options can lead to sporadic attendance.

Socioeconomic Factors: Families facing financial difficulties may struggle to provide necessary resources for their children to attend school regularly. Issues such as lack of appropriate clothing, food, or a stable home environment can contribute to absenteeism.

Special Educational Needs (SEN): Students with special educational needs may require additional support and accommodations to attend school regularly.

Engagement and Motivation: Lack of engagement with school activities and a perceived lack of relevance in the curriculum can lead to disinterest in attending. Children who are not motivated may avoid attending school.

Academic Challenges: Students facing academic difficulties or feeling overwhelmed by coursework may avoid school. They may fear falling behind or failing in their studies.

Cultural and Language Barriers: Children from diverse backgrounds may face challenges related to language barriers or cultural differences. These challenges can affect their attendance and engagement with school.

Peer Pressure and Social Factors: Influence from peers can impact attendance. Children may avoid attending school to align with the behaviour of their peers or to engage in social activities outside of school.

Parental Involvement: Parental support and involvement in a child's education can positively influence attendance. Lack of parental engagement may lead to increased absenteeism.

Supporting Attendance at RUSSELLS HALL PRIMARY SCHOOL

To address any identified attendance issues effectively, RUSSELLS HALL PRIMARY SCHOOL will implement a range of strategies such as early intervention, support for vulnerable families, intervention programmes, and creating a positive and inclusive school environment. Understanding the specific factors affecting attendance for individual children and families is crucial for developing any targeted interventions and support systems to improve attendance outcomes.

Attendance and Punctuality Expectations at RUSSELLS HALL PRIMARY SCHOOL

Doors open for children at 08:40am and children are expected to be in their classroom by 8:45am. Children are expected to arrive on time and attend all scheduled lessons and activities. Children arriving after the close of registration, at 9am, will be recorded as late. If a child arrives at school after 09:15am they will be U coded. This is an unauthorised code and will count as an absence for the school AM session. Punctuality is recorded and this will be added to your child's record of attendance, a letter will be sent to parents every half term regarding attendance concerns of a child.

Children that accrue 10 late marks or more will receive a letter, offering support and an opportunity to explore barriers for punctuality.

The absence will only be authorised if a satisfactory explanation for the late arrival can be provided, for example, attendance at a medical appointment.

The absence will be recorded as unauthorised if a child has arrived late without justifiable cause, for example they woke up late or were waiting for their uniform to dry.

Strategies for Using Data to Target Attendance Improvement Efforts at RUSSELLS HALL PRIMARY SCHOOL

Children's attendance will be monitored and shared with other agencies and the DfE.

Weekly attendance meetings will be held between the Attendance Support Team. These meetings are minuted and will focus on agreed actions for those children of concern. The purpose of each meeting will be to understand the progress the school is making when supporting identified individuals or groups of children.

Attendance data will be used to identify emerging patterns and trends to inform whole school strategies to improve attendance and attainment.

It is the responsibility of school Governors to challenge and support the school regarding overall attendance, regular reports will be presented to this body. The governors will therefore examine closely the information provided for them and seek to ensure that our attendance figures are as high as can be.

Attendance is one of our Vital Organs and an in-depth report will be included in The Head Teacher Report every term. The types of data we utilise are:

- The whole school cohort and Individual year groups.
- Individual pupils.
- Demographic groups, e.g., pupils from different ethnic groups or economic backgrounds.
- Other groups of pupils, e.g., pupils with SEND, LAC, and pupils eligible for FSM.
- Pupils who have an allocated social worker or are known to social care.
- A pupil who is absent for prolonged periods, or repeated occasions, which may indicate a safeguarding concern, such as CSE or CRE, particularly county lines.
- Pupils at risk of PA.
- Pupils at risk of SA.

Strategy for Reducing Persistent and Severe Absence at RUSSELLS HALL PRIMARY SCHOOL

At Russells Hall we aim to communicate the importance of attendance with parents and children. We have a particular focus on reducing Persistent Absenteeism at the school. The Persistent Absence threshold for children is currently 10% and Ofsted will use this threshold in its inspection of schools.

The threshold means that any child will be classed as Persistently Absent when they have missed 40 or more sessions. This equates to 20, or more, missed days during the academic year - which is as little as 6 days over each of the three Terms. This also equates to the equivalent of 1 day of absence, or more, a fortnight across a full school year

We will use a 20-day tracking system to make you aware of the number of days your child has missed in education. This will allow us to work together to reduce the number of days and attempt to prevent your child from reaching this number..

Details of the National Framework for Penalty Notices at RUSSELLS HALL PRIMARY SCHOOL

There are several sanctions that school can take to address the issue of non-attendance. To try and identify the reason for absence we will always talk to you first to identify the reason for absence. Russells Hall will always ensure the escalated process map is followed, focusing on the support a child needs at each stage (please access on the school website). However, for lack of engagement in attendance support there are sanctions that will be followed:

Penalty Notices:

Penalty Notices will be considered when:

- A child is absent from school for the purpose of a Leave of Absence in term time and the absence has not been authorised by the school.
- A child has accumulated at least 12 sessions of unauthorised absence and further absence has occurred following written warning to improve

Penalty Notices will be used in accordance with Dudley Council Code of Conduct. Per child, per parent.

Prosecution:

Where intervention through the school's process fails to bring about an improvement in attendance, the local authority will be notified and legal proceedings in the Magistrates Court may be taken. The school will provide the Local Authority with evidence required for a prosecution under section 444/4441 (a) of the Education Act 1996 and will appear as a prosecution witness if required by the court. This is to ensure that parents realise their own responsibilities in ensuring their child's attendance at school.

Section 4441(a) of the Education Act 1996 states that if a parent fails to ensure the regular school attendance of their child if he/she is a registered pupil at a school and is of compulsory school age, then they are guilty of an offence.

Schools, trusts and local authorities are expected to work together and make use of the full range of legal interventions rather than relying solely on fixed penalty notices or prosecution. It is for individual schools and local authorities to decide whether to use them in an individual case after considering the individual circumstances of a family. These are:

- Parenting contracts
- Education supervision orders
- Attendance prosecution

- Parenting orders
- Fixed penalty notices

An attendance contract is a formal agreement between parents and the school or local authority to address irregular attendance, providing support as an alternative to prosecution. It is not legally binding but serves as a formal route to secure engagement with support when voluntary early help plans have not worked. An attendance contract aims to offer support rather than punishment.

If voluntary support or attendance contracts are unsuccessful, an Education Supervision Order (ESO) can provide formal legal intervention without prosecution. Before proceeding with an ESO, the school and local authority should exhaust voluntary support options and ensure the order would benefit the pupil and parent. Persistent non-compliance with an ESO can lead to prosecution in the Magistrates Court by the local authority. Upon conviction, parents may face fines of up to £1,000. Local authorities have the power to prosecute parents for various offences related to attendance: Failure to comply with a school attendance order may result in fines of up to £1,000. Failure to secure regular attendance at school or alternative provision may lead to fines of up to £2,500 and/or imprisonment. Persistent non-compliance with an Education Supervision Order may result in fines of up to £1,000.

Removal from roll

This refers to the process of a child's name being officially taken off the school's register, typically due to extended non-attendance or other circumstances. Elective Home Education (EHE) is an option that some parents choose after removal from roll, where they take responsibility for providing education to their child at home.

Elective Home Education

All parents and carers must ensure provision of suitable education for their children. Most parents/carers choose to educate their children at school however some people choose to teach their child at home, this is known as elective home education (EHE).

The Education Act 1996 Section 7 states that:

the parent of a child who is of compulsory school age has a legal duty to see that their child receives efficient full-time education, suitable to their age, ability and aptitude, and to any special education needs they may have, either by regular attendance at school or otherwise

It gives parents the right to educate their children "otherwise" than at school.

Being a home educator is a big decision, we advise you think about why you are considering home education, what it will involve, the costs, time commitment, and if you have the energy and ability to provide the appropriate support, motivation and resources for your child, or if you intend to employ a tutor/teacher.

We also recommend that you speak to one of our education officers, the school, and your child. If it is that you are having problems with your child's school, teachers or you are considering home education in reaction to a particular situation such as bullying we recommend you speak to the school, school's governing body or education officer and try to fix any problems. Often problems can be resolved in other ways and schools have many professionals on hand to help.

- You will need to write to the school stating that you intend to educate your child at home.
- You will then receive a letter from the Educational Investigation Service to arrange a meeting with you, either at home or at their office. This is normal procedure. The service seeks to establish initial contact and discuss any issues you feel may have been overlooked etc. Following this initial meeting your contact details will be passed to an elective home education co-ordinator, with whom all future contact will take place

Day-to-Day Processes for Managing Attendance at RUSSELLS HALL PRIMARY SCHOOL

Parents are responsible for ensuring their children receive a full-time education. Each situation will be dealt with on an individual basis, fairly and equitably always remembering the welfare and safety of the child is the paramount concern.

The term 'parent' includes those who are not a natural parent but have parental responsibility for the child as defined by the Children's Act 1989 or have care of the child as defined by the Education Act 1996.

- Absence can only be authorised by the school; parents do not have this authority. All absences will be treated as unauthorised unless satisfactory evidence for the child's absence has been received. In the first instance contact from the parent will be accepted as evidence. However, if a child's attendance continues to cause concern, parents may be asked to provide medical evidence where absences occur repeatedly due to reported illness. This will usually be in the form of an appointment card, prescriptions etc. Absence may be coded as unauthorised without evidence.
- Parents should wherever possible make all medical and dental appointments outside of the school day. Where this is not possible, children should attend school for part of the day. Appointment cards should always be provided as evidence of medical/dental appointments.
- Unless parents have provided a satisfactory explanation and it has been accepted by the school absence will not be authorised.

First Day Calling and Safeguarding at RUSSELLS HALL PRIMARY SCHOOL

At Russells Hall Primary School we expect our parents to make contact at the earliest opportunity on the first day of any absence. We will always contact you by calling and emailing you. Where we have on-going concerns regarding your child's attendance, we will visit your home address and write to you. We may even invite you to meet with a member of staff to discuss any on-going concerns regarding attendance. It is important that you talk to us first; you are legally responsible under Education Act 1996 for ensuring that your child is in school every day and on time. If we cannot make contact with you, we will continue to make announced and unannounced home visits, regarding any concerns we may have surrounding attendance at Russells Hall Primary School.

Home Visits Procedure

To support regular school attendance and ensure the safety and wellbeing of pupils, home visits may be conducted as part of our attendance strategy. Home visits will always be carried out by two designated members of staff, such as the Attendance Officer or Safeguarding Team, in accordance with school policies and safeguarding protocols. These visits will typically occur when there are ongoing concerns about a pupil's attendance, unexplained absences, or when other forms of communication have not been successful. The purpose of the visit is to establish contact with the family, identify any barriers to attendance, and offer appropriate support to facilitate the pupil's return to school. Staff conducting the visit must carry mobile phones, log their whereabouts with the school office, and perform a dynamic risk assessment upon arrival. Staff will avoid entering the home unless it is deemed safe and necessary. A detailed log of the visit must be maintained on CPOMS, and any concerns raised during the visit must be reported immediately to the Designated Safeguarding Lead (DSL). Visits will be scheduled during daylight hours whenever possible, and in cases of heightened concern, local safeguarding agencies or law enforcement may be consulted prior to the visit.

Coding of Attendance

Attendance will be recorded using the DFE's statutory attendance codes, please refer to the appendix for coding.

Requesting Absence Leave

From 1st September 2013, the Government amended the England (Pupil Registration) (England) Regulations 2006. Head teachers may only grant leave in 'exceptional circumstances' only. Russells Hall Primary School observes Dudley Councils 'Leave in Term Time Guidance for schools and Academies'.

Parents wishing to apply for leave during term time must send a written request for the attention of the Headteacher before making any arrangements. Retrospective requests will not be considered and therefore will result in the absence being categorised as unauthorised. Each leave during term time request will be considered on an individual basis.

If a child fails to return and contact with the parent has not been made or received, school may take the child off the school's roll in compliance with the Education (Pupil registration, England) Regulations 2006. This means that the child may lose their school place.

If the permission to take leave is not granted and the child is still absent from school, the absence will be unauthorised. In such cases the school may consider legal action. Which may result in a fixed penalty notice being issued, per child, per parent.

Only in exceptional circumstances will absence be agreed. In such cases, consideration will be given to the cultural needs and the family circumstances, such as minority ethnic children returning to their country of origin. In these cases, granting leave for longer periods than normal may be considered justified. In all cases though, parents will be required to justify why the leave needs to be taken during term time.

Reporting a Child's Absence

Parents or carers must contact the school on the first day of their child's absence to provide the reason for the absence.

Definitions

In the context of school attendance and education in the UK, the terms "Persistent Absence," "Risk of Persistent Absence," and "Severe Absence" are used to describe different levels of irregular attendance by students. These terms are important for tracking and addressing attendance issues.

Persistent Absence (PA):

Definition: Persistent Absence is a term used to describe a level of student absence from school that is considered to be a significant cause for concern.

Threshold: In England, a student is considered to be persistently absent when they have an attendance rate of 90% or below. This means they have missed 10% or more of their school sessions.

Risk of Persistent Absence:

Definition: The term "Risk of Persistent Absence" refers to a situation in which a student's attendance is at a level that suggests they are at risk of becoming persistently absent.

Threshold: While there is no specific threshold for "Risk of Persistent Absence," it is typically used to describe students whose attendance is consistently low and becoming a concern, as the school communicates to parents in days, we identify 10 days or more as Risk of PA and we will follow internal school procedures.

Severe Absence (or Severe Persistent Absence):

Definition: The term "Severe Absence" or "Severe Persistent Absence" is used to describe the most serious cases of non-attendance.

Threshold: Particular focus and support will be provided to pupils who are absent from school more than they are present (those missing 50% or more of school). These severely absent pupils may find it more difficult to be in school or face bigger barriers to their regular attendance and as such are likely to need more intensive support across a range of external agency partners.

Absence Definitions

- Arrival at school after the register has closed.
- Not attending school for any reason.

Authorised Absence:

- An absence for sickness for which the school has granted leave.
- Medical or dental appointments which unavoidably fall during school time, for which the school has granted leave.
- Religious or cultural observances for which the school has granted leave
- An absence due to a family emergency

Unauthorised Absence

- Parents keeping children off school unnecessarily or without reason.
- Truancy before or during the school day.
- Absences which have never been properly explained..
- Arrival at school after the register has closed.
- Absence due to shopping, looking after other children or birthdays.
- Absence due to day trips and holidays in term-time which have not been agreed.
- Leaving school for no reason during the day.

Policies and Practice

This attendance policy operates within the framework of statutory attendance regulations outlined in the Education (Pupil Registration) (England) Regulations 2006 and subsequent amendments. RUSSELLS HALL PRIMARY SCHOOL adhere to the following key attendance acts in the UK:

Education Act 1996: The Education Act 1996 is the primary piece of legislation that sets out the legal framework for school attendance in England and Wales. It outlines the responsibilities of parents, carers, and schools in ensuring regular school attendance. Sections 444-447 of the Act deal with offenses related to non-attendance and penalties for parents and carers.

Education (Pupil Registration) Regulations 2006: These regulations specify the procedures for registering pupils and maintaining attendance records in schools in England. They also define the circumstances in which a pupil can be marked as absent or present.

Education (Pupil Registration) (England) (Amendment) Regulations 2013: These regulations amended the 2006 regulations and introduced stricter rules on authorizing term-time holidays. Under these regulations, headteachers are only allowed to grant leave of absence in exceptional circumstances.

School Attendance Code of Practice: The School Attendance Code of Practice provides guidance to schools, local authorities, and parents on the law and procedures relating to school attendance and absence. It sets out the principles for promoting good attendance and dealing with poor attendance.

Local Authority School Attendance Guidance: Each local authority in the UK may provide its own guidance and policies on school attendance. Schools should be aware of and follow the specific guidance issued by their local authority.

Department for Education (DFE) Guidance: The DFE periodically issues guidance documents and updates related to school attendance. Schools should stay informed about the latest DFE guidance 2024 and follow any recommendations or requirements outlined in these documents.

Child Employment Legislation: Legislation such as the Children and Young Persons Act 1933 and the Children (Performances) Regulations 1968 govern the employment and attendance of children involved in performances, modelling, and other activities outside of regular school hours.

Children Missing Education (CME) Statutory Guidance: This guidance outlines the responsibilities of local authorities in identifying and tracking children who may be missing education, including those who are not on a school roll or are not receiving suitable education.

Section 19 of the Education Act 1996 (England and Wales) outlines the duty of local authorities in ensuring that suitable education is provided for children of compulsory school age.

Roles and Responsibilities

Teachers: In the United Kingdom, teachers play a vital role in monitoring and promoting school attendance. Ensuring regular and punctual attendance is essential for the academic success and well-being of children. Here are the key roles and responsibilities of teachers regarding attendance in school:

Monitoring Attendance: Teachers are responsible for monitoring the daily attendance of their children. They should maintain accurate attendance records, noting both present and absent students.

Promoting Punctuality: Teachers should encourage students to arrive at school on time each day. Punctuality is essential for a smooth start to the school day and minimises disruptions in the classroom.

Taking Immediate Action: When a child is absent without prior notification or a valid reason, teachers should take immediate action. This may involve contacting the school's attendance officer or designated staff member to report the absence.

Early Intervention: Teachers should identify patterns of poor attendance or lateness and intervene early to address any underlying issues. This may include communicating with the student, their parents or guardians, and relevant support services.

Maintaining Communication: Teachers should maintain open lines of communication with parents or guardians regarding attendance. They should inform parents of any concerns about a child's attendance or punctuality.

Providing Support: Teachers can provide academic and emotional support to children who may be experiencing attendance challenges. Identifying the root causes and addressing them proactively can help improve attendance.

Setting Expectations: Teachers can set clear expectations for attendance and punctuality in their classrooms. This includes communicating the importance of regular attendance for learning and academic progress.

Creating a Welcoming Classroom Environment: Teachers should strive to create a positive and welcoming classroom environment where students feel motivated and engaged. A supportive atmosphere can encourage attendance.

Identifying Barriers: Teachers should be alert to potential barriers to attendance, such as bullying, health issues, or family problems. Identifying these barriers and reporting them to school staff can lead to effective interventions.

Implementing School Policies: Teachers should adhere to and implement the school's attendance policies and procedures.

Attendance Records: Accurate attendance records are crucial. Teachers should submit attendance data promptly to the school's administrative team. This information is used for reporting to local authorities and the Department for Education (DFE).

Collaboration: Collaborating with other school staff, such as attendance officers, counsellors, and administrators, is essential for addressing attendance concerns effectively. Teamwork ensures a coordinated approach to supporting students.

Supporting Positive Behaviour: Teachers can implement strategies to reinforce positive behaviour related to attendance, such as recognising attendance and punctuality.

Safeguarding: Teachers should be aware of safeguarding protocols and report any concerns related to a child's safety or well-being promptly to the appropriate school staff.

Professional Development: Continuous professional development will enhance teachers' skills in addressing attendance issues and implementing strategies to promote regular attendance.

Role Modelling: Teachers can serve as role models by demonstrating punctuality and a commitment to their own professional responsibilities.

Teaching Assistant and Higher-Level Teaching assistants (HLTAs): Teaching assistants (TAs) and Learning Mentors (LM) in schools also play important roles in supporting and promoting attendance. Their contributions can have a significant impact on attendance and overall well-being. Here are some key roles and responsibilities of teaching assistants regarding attendance in school:

Monitoring Attendance: TAs/HLTAs often work closely with children and have a good understanding of individual attendance patterns. They should be vigilant in monitoring attendance and promptly report any concerns to teachers or school administrators.

Positive Relationships: TAs/HLTAs can build positive and trusting relationships with children. By creating a supportive and welcoming environment, they can encourage children to attend school regularly.

Attendance Support: TAs/HLTAs can provide individualised support to children who may be struggling with attendance. This support may include identifying barriers to attendance and working with children to address them.

Reinforcing Expectations: TAs/HLTAs can reinforce the importance of regular attendance and punctuality to children. They can remind children of the school's attendance policies and expectations.

Communication: TAs/HLTAs can maintain open lines of communication with children's parents or guardians. They can inform parents of any attendance concerns and collaborate with them to find solutions.

Attendance Interventions: TAs/HLTAs can collaborate with teachers, counsellors, and school administrators to implement attendance interventions when needed. This may involve developing action plans for children with attendance issues.

Supporting Students with Special Needs: TAs/HLTAs often work with children with special educational needs. They should ensure that these children receive the necessary support to overcome attendance barriers and participate in school activities.

Identifying Patterns: TAs/HLTAs can help identify attendance patterns, such as recurring absences or lateness, and report them to the appropriate school staff. Identifying patterns early can lead to targeted interventions.

Promoting Engagement: TAs/HLTAs can engage children in meaningful learning activities and provide extra support when students are struggling academically. A positive classroom experience can motivate students to attend school regularly.

Safeguarding: TAs/HLTAs should be aware of safeguarding protocols and report any safeguarding concerns or signs of distress related to a child's attendance promptly to designated school staff.

Role Modelling: TAs/HLTAs can serve as positive role models by demonstrating punctuality, professionalism, and a commitment to their work. Children may be inspired by their dedication.

Professional Development: Continuous professional development can enhance TAs/HLTAs skills in addressing attendance issues and supporting children effectively.

Collaboration: Collaborating with teachers and other school staff is essential. TAs/HLTAs can work together with the school's attendance officer, counsellors, and administrators to implement effective attendance strategies.

Recognition of Attendance: TAs/HLTAs can participate in recognising children's attendance.

Here are some key aspects of the role of governors/trustees in supporting children's attendance:

Policy Development: Governors/trustees collaborate with school leadership to develop and review attendance policies. These policies should align with statutory requirements and provide clear guidance on attendance monitoring, reporting, and interventions.

Statutory Compliance: Governors/trustees ensure that the school complies with all relevant statutory requirements related to attendance. They are responsible for monitoring the school's adherence to attendance regulations.

Strategic Oversight: Governors/trustees take a strategic approach to attendance. They consider attendance as a key performance indicator and monitor trends and patterns in attendance data.

Monitoring Attendance Data: Governors/trustees review attendance data regularly to identify trends and areas of concern. They may request reports on attendance rates, persistent absence, and unauthorised absences.

Accountability: Governors/trustees hold school leadership accountable for attendance outcomes. They may question school leaders about their strategies for improving attendance and the effectiveness of interventions.

Policy Implementation: Governors/trustees ensure that attendance policies are effectively implemented throughout the school. They may inquire about the practical application of attendance policies and procedures.

Setting Targets: Governors/trustees collaborate with school leaders to set attendance targets and goals. They help establish benchmarks for improving attendance rates.

Reviewing Interventions: Governors/trustees assess the effectiveness of attendance interventions and strategies. They may request reports on the impact of interventions and whether they have led to improved attendance.

Continuous Improvement: Governors/trustees regularly evaluate the school's approach to attendance and seek ways to continuously improve attendance outcomes.

Senior Staff: Senior staff in UK schools play a critical role in supporting attendance for children. They provide leadership, set the tone for the school's attendance culture, and oversee the implementation of policies and strategies to promote regular attendance. Professional Development: They provide training and professional development opportunities for staff, including teachers, teaching assistants, and support staff, to enhance their knowledge and skills in attendance-related matters.

Early Intervention: Senior staff support early intervention efforts by identifying children with attendance issues and working with staff to implement targeted interventions. They ensure that appropriate support is provided to address attendance barriers.

Parental Engagement: They promote parental engagement in attendance improvement initiatives. Senior staff encourage open communication with parents and guardians and may organise meetings or workshops to involve parents in addressing attendance challenges.
